

Best of the 'Burgh 2012

Our editors pick the best of the best in Pittsburgh.

Best Spot for Doggone Good Eats:

Woof Stop Barkery

If one of your pet peeves is not being able to find healthy, hearty doggie delicacies to delight your pooch's palate, then make tracks to Woof Stop Barkery. The Barkery's low-calorie goodies (which are baked to order) are created from human-grade, organic ingredients and contain no additives, fillers or animal byproducts. What's more, they're taste-tested by dogs! Fido or Fifi can enjoy treats in traditional flavors such as beef or chicken; for the more adventuresome, there's pumpkin & cinnamon or peanut-butter sandwiches. Check out the website to see how your pet could earn barking rights as "Dog of the Month." — M.M.

woofstop.com